Certificate of Conformance

Decker Manufacturing Corporation hereby certifies that ANY industrial weld nut, fabricated from within this Albion Michigan facility was cold headed &/or forged to automotive (OEM) and/or customer mandated specifications and, that said numerical markings upon the weld nut's bearing surface legally represent those specific Class Markings as defined from those original source document(s). This bearing surface numerical designation equates to the particular material chemistry and/or it's mechanical testing as deemed applicable for the industrial weld nut fastener.
